I had suggested that the objective(s) of the paper be clearly articulated; and that the literature review be restructure with a deliberate attention given to the concept of Administrative Examination and Approval System. While I acknowledge some improvement in the paper, none of these items which I considered fundamental in the paper have been addressed.	There are two objects of this study. I have marked it in yellow colour. I thought about the concept of AEAS and CAEAS carefully, and explained the origin of Chinese administrative examination and approval system. I hope the revision could meet your requirement. More detail is in the section of literature review with yellow mark. Thank you.
