PART 2:

FINAL EVALUATOR'S comments on revised paper (if any)	Authors' response to final evaluator's comments
I thank the authors. It seems that some work, mainly in styling, was put into the paper. Unfortunately, no track changes feature was added, so it is hard to compare to the original and check for changes in the text. Overall it reads much better, but the revised version has some comments built into the file which were mentioned by me previously and are still unanswered. Generally, there is no clinical significance to the paper and to the finding, which serve as no new information source.
