If randomly, this has a selection bias and needs to be addressed. 2) The authors mention that base on the 46% prevalence of psychological illness..". Where does this come from? Needs to be referenced appropriately. 3) The word burnout should be removed from the title, as it confuses the reader that this is a study of burnout, when it is not. 4) The authors should reference and discuss their results along with the results of these two recent papers: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a) Factors Associated with Mental Health Status of Medical Residents: A Model-Guided Study.
